NOTE:

This responds to referenced teletype's request for written instructions as to testimony by agents of WFO subpoenaed to testify before a Federal grand jury concerning surreptitious entries. Agent's counsel raised the question of necessity for releases to include not only the employment agreement but also specific provisions relating to safeguarding of classified information.

This is to call to your attention a matter relating to the Civil Rights Division "Surreptitious Entry Investigation" which has been conveyed to me by Bureau personnel concerned regarding the safeguarding of classified national security material and information.

In July, 1977, [redacted] a member of the law firm of [redacted] Washington, D. C., who is counsel for a number of Special Agents who have been summoned to appear before the Federal grand jury meeting at Washington, D. C., in connection with the Civil Rights Division investigation, questioned as to whether his clients were authorized to discuss classified information and material before the Federal grand jury. [redacted] questioned as to whether the Agents were authorized to reveal classified information falling within the purview of Executive Order 11652 and Title 28, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 17 (28 CFR 17), to unclear persons.

On July 14, 1977, Mr. William L. Gardner, Chief, Criminal Section, Civil Rights Division, was queried by a representative of this Bureau's Legal Counsel Division regarding clearance requirements in this instance. Mr. Gardner responded the Department does not intend to ask questions that would result in disclosure of classified information and that, therefore, the issue of whether the grand jury is cleared or unclear does not arise. He stated this issue was discussed and resolved many months ago and that [redacted] is or should be completely aware of the above.

Based upon Mr. Gardner's certification, instructions were issued to several Special Agents scheduled to appear before the grand jury at Washington, D. C., that they were relieved of their obligations under their employment agreement with the FBI and authorized to discuss nonclassified information in the files of the FBI to the extent necessary in connection with their appearances before the grand jury. In view of Mr. [redacted]'s specific representation that there would be no attempt to reveal classified information during the grand jury testimony, no other release was deemed appropriate or granted.

Information has been brought to my attention indicating there may have been instances where classified national security information has been discussed before the Federal grand jury convened in Washington, D. C., in connection with the "Tumbaites Entry Investigation." While our knowledge of the matters discussed is limited, FBI Headquarters personnel responsible for safeguarding classified information have advised of several examples where information possibly disclosing intelligence sources and methods and foreign relations matters, the continuing protection of which is essential to the national security, may have been discussed. Examples of these areas are the following.

1. A former field office official was questioned relating to a surreptitious entry, [redacted]

Prior to his appearance before the grand jury [redacted]

While the Department Attorneys endeavored to be non-specific relating to the foreign intelligence area and attempted to develop FBI Headquarters approval procedures for such techniques, the former [redacted] official was unable to state what had been discussed before the grand jury prior to and following his appearance.

2. A supervisor of a West Coast [redacted] office was questioned in detail before the grand jury relating to [redacted]

The technique involved was stated to be a dissemination of information.

3. An official of a West Coast office was mentioned specifically relating to

(b)(3)

As a matter of background, by letter dated September 7, 1978, the former Attorney General authorized the former Assistant Attorney General, Civil Rights Division, to disseminate classified information or material, pursuant to the provisions of 28 CFR 17.64, to persons outside the Executive Branch in connection with the investigation by a Federal grand jury convened to hear evidence of alleged break-ins and related matters directed at private organizations and individuals in the United States, including specifically the Weather Underground organization. This authorization was specifically limited to the dissemination of such information or material only to the members of "this grand jury, its court reporter and the typist for any transcript of the grand jury proceedings." The authorization was conditioned upon the Assistant Attorney General, Civil Rights Division, making appropriate arrangements to assure the proper protection of such information and material.

It is this Bureau's understanding the above authorization related to the Federal grand jury convened in New York City to hear evidence relating to the "Surveillance Entry Investigation." We have no information indicating such authorization had been granted for the Federal grand jury convened in Washington, D. C., and inquiries of the Security Programs Section, Office of Management and Finance, have failed to determine any clearances have been granted for the Washington, D. C., grand jury, court reporter and typist.

The Attorney General

The letter of the former Attorney General also indicated pursuant to 28 CFR 17.26 the former Assistant Attorney General was authorized to downgrade or declassify any classified national security information relevant to the grand jury proceedings, for the purposes of the grand jury proceedings only. This authority was subject to approval by the Department Review Committee (DRC). No information has been received indicating the DRC has downgraded or declassified any information pursuant to either the grand jury convened in New York City or that convened in Washington, D. C.

I would appreciate your making appropriate inquiries regarding this matter to ensure classified national security information and material is being appropriately safeguarded in accordance with Federal regulations and that you effect any corrective steps you deem appropriate. Please advise me the results of your inquiries so I may furnish appropriate advice to our personnel.

It should also be noted the DRC, which oversees the Attorney General is the final authority on classification matters within the Department, has determined in the past the Weatherman investigation, which has been the principle target of the "Weatherman Entry Investigation," was a legitimate national security investigation in accordance with the need to protect classified material. Certain techniques utilized in the past in connection with the Weatherman investigation have been adjudicated by the DRC as properly classified. It would appear the Civil Rights Division Attorneys, in spite of their representations, are clearly discussing sensitive classified matters before the grand jury convened in Washington, D. C., without request to clearances and other safeguarding procedures as specified by the former Attorney General in connection with the grand jury convened in New York City. Reference is made to my letter dated April 13, 1977, to the Attorney General concerning captioned matter (copy attached).

In referenced letter I brought to the attention of the Attorney General the fact that disclosures of facts involved in this investigation were serious and I requested that the Office of Professional Responsibility investigate the leaking of investigative facts in this matter.

In this regard I am attaching a copy of a newspaper article appearing in the October 4, 1977, edition of the "New York Times" which also contains information relating to captioned matter. I am forwarding this article to you for your consideration in the investigation of this matter.

As I pointed out in referenced letter, I am of the opinion the publicity generated by this information has seriously prejudiced the ability of prospective defendants to obtain a fair trial, but I do not intend this letter to minimize the seriousness of the charges made. I would appreciate being kept advised of the progress of this inquiry into this matter.

UNAUTHORIZED DISCLOSURES CONCERNING
CIVIL RIGHTS DIVISION INVESTIGATION OF SURREPTITIOUS ENTRIES

As you are aware, the repeated unauthorized disclosure of information concerning the Department's investigation into alleged wrongdoings by present and former employees of this Bureau has been a matter of serious concern to me. I know that you share this concern and are doing your utmost to guard against a repetition of this conduct.

One recent example of these disclosures is found in the March 31, 1977, issue of the Washington Post, captioned "Indictments Filed of FBI Agents in Illegal Break-Ins." The article announced that Justice Department officials had recommended indictments of "low-level personnel involved in illegal burglaries as a stepping-stone to possible further prosecution of approximately six present and former FBI executives." As you know, this is not an isolated incident. Similar articles have appeared repeatedly over the past several months, discussing the progress of the Department's investigation, speculating on the likelihood of indictments, identifying persons who are the principal subjects of the investigation, and disclosing matters such as trial strategy that could be known only to attorneys or others in the Department of Justice who were closely connected with the investigation.

On June 30, 1976, I sent a memorandum to the Assistant Attorney General, Civil Rights Division, J. Stanley Pottinger, inquiring whether an investigation should be conducted regarding disclosures that appeared earlier that month in the New York Post. Mr. Pottinger replied that no such investigation should be undertaken." On October 21, 1976, I forwarded a complaint form to the Public Integrity Section of the Criminal Division, enclosing a copy of an article in the New York Times of the same date, noting that the information contained therein might involve a violation of the Privacy Act. In his reply, Assistant Attorney General Richard L. Thornburgh requested that no investigation be conducted at that time, but advised that the Criminal Division would "review this decision at such time as the Civil Rights Division has conducted its inquiry into the illegal entries."

In my opinion, the deliberate disclosure of this information may constitute a violation of the criminal provisions of the Privacy Act. It is certainly contrary to explicit regulations of the Department of Justice, which are subject to severe administrative penalties. There may also have been a flagrant breach of the secrecy of grand jury proceedings and of the ethical and professional standards of the Bar. One can only speculate on whether the resultant publicity has prejudiced the ability of prospective defendants to obtain a fair trial. I am sure you will agree that these matters take on special significance where personnel of the Department of Justice may be involved.

I certainly do not intend to minimize the seriousness of the charges that have been made against present and former members of this Bureau. I recognize also the necessity for investigation and the need for a prompt and impartial resolution of the allegations. It is for this reason that I deferred to the Department of Justice and avoided making any inquiries regarding the investigation. But as Director of the FBI I have a special responsibility to insure that our employees are treated in a fair and impartial manner, particularly where allegations of misconduct may result in criminal charges. They are entitled to no more--and certainly no less--than any other citizen in similar circumstances.

I therefore respectfully request that this matter be referred to the Office of Professional Responsibility in accordance with 28 C.F.R. § 0.39a and that I be kept advised of the progress of the inquiry.

For your further information, I have attached copies of some of the newspaper articles that have appeared concerning this investigation.

F.B.I. Chief in New York May Face More

Questions on Wiretap Case

By NICHOLAS M. HORROCK

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3—Government prosecutors are contemplating recalling the chief of the big New York office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation before a grand jury in an effort to straighten out contradictory testimony about an illegal electronic surveillance in Staten Island, sources familiar with the case said today.

This is the first indication of activity in a case that has seemed frozen in bureaucratic limbo since last spring. The Department of Justice has been investigating alleged abuses by the F.B.I. for more than 16 months under two Administrations, but only one indictment has been brought and only one potential suspect cleared by an official statement.

Department sources said there had been growing pressure to make a decision on the F.B.I. cases before Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., President Carter's nominee to head the bureau, takes office. Judge Johnson's confirmation hearings before the Senate Judiciary Committee are to begin a week from today, a White House source said.

According to well-informed sources, the second grand jury appearance for J. Wallace LaPrade, an assistant director of the F.B.I., might give him an opportunity to resolve contradictions between his testimony and that of other bureau men on a wiretapping stakeout in an antiwar radical case several years ago.

A Chance to Query Him

But another source said that it would also provide the Government with chance to ask Mr. LaPrade whether he had had a role in a series of previously undisclosed burglaries.

On May 10, The New York Times quoted Government sources who said that the prosecutors had recommended to Attorney General Griffin B. Bell that Mr. LaPrade be prosecuted. The prosecutors, from the civil rights division, which has handled the case, said they had also found evidence that could warrant prosecution of John F. Morley, Andrew J. Decker, Arbor Gray and James Ingram, all of whom had served in F.B.I. internal security work.

The recommendation to prosecute Mr. LaPrade, key sources said, was based on contradictions between his testimony and that of other F.B.I. agents about an electronic surveillance in the bureau's effort to catch Cameron Bishop, an antiwar radical wanted in the early 1970's in connection with several bombings.

Several agents and officials were questioned by a Federal grand jury sitting in the Southern District of New York about who was in a panel truck parked on a stakeout of an unauthorized wiretapping of a telephone that the agents believed Mr. Bishop would use.

Mr. LaPrade reportedly said he was not in the truck. Other agents said he was.

A source said that Mr. LaPrade would have an opportunity to "clear up" this contradiction before a grand jury here.

that was ordered to review the case by Mr. Bell last spring.

Thomas Bolan, Mr. LaPrade's lawyer, said he could not comment on the case. John Wilson, a spokesman for the Justice Department, said that lawyers handling the investigation referred comment to Benjamin Civelletti, an Assistant Attorney General in charge of the criminal division, and that Mr. Civelletti was on the way to Los Angeles. Later Marvin Wall, the chief spokesman for the department, called back and said that it was declining comment because this was an active criminal investigation.

As the case has dragged on, lawyers both within the department and for the defense, members of the F.B.I. and those under investigation have criticized the department's delay.

"This has left all these men (F.B.I. officials and agents implicated in the reported abuses) in limbo over what's going to happen," one defense lawyer complained privately. "And I think that's vastly unjust."

The starting date of the investigation has not been reported. But it has been under way at least 18 months, according to records and interviews. At the end of the Ford Administration, Justice Department lawyers were reported to have prepared to recommend a series of prosecutions.

Four months later, John Kearney, a retired bureau supervisor, was indicted on charges stemming from the case. In the uproar that followed, Mr. Bell ordered a Washington grand jury to completely review the allegations and determine whether higher-ranking officials had ordered the illegal activities.

Two months later, department lawyers wrote to John Morley, a former F.B.I. official who headed internal security intelligence work in New York at one point, and told him he was no longer a target of the investigation.

It has been clear that Mr. Bell has been reluctant to prosecute agency men for actions taken during their investigations. He has been under heavy pressure from groups supporting the F.B.I. and from conservative national security advocates who have argued that the Government could not prosecute its employees for properly trying to protect citizens against dangerous agitators.

Kelley Sees New Sensitivity

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3 (AP)—Law enforcement officials, despite a tendency to "cry disaster over each new Supreme Court decision" that broadens defendants' rights, have gained a new sensitivity to human worth, Clarence M. Kelley said today.

The retiring Director of the F.B.I. told the International Association of Chiefs of Police that sensitivity to constitutional rights and the "individual's innate worth" was the most important change he had seen in 37 years of police work.

At the association's 84th annual conference began Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. of California charged the chiefs to support the cause of excluded groups in society.

"It is not enough to indulge in the perceptions of the past, but to try to assimilate and welcome into the mainstream of society these groups who for too long have been left out," he said, mentioning the elderly, women and minorities.

BURGLARIES IN JERSEY
LINKED TO F.B.I. MEMO

Newark Field Office Said to Have Been Told to 'Do Anything' in Weathermen Search

By NICHOLAS M. HORROCK

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6—Federal prosecutors have found a written link between the headquarters of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here and two previously undisclosed burglaries by agents at a private home in New Jersey, law enforcement sources said today.

According to these sources, the prosecutors have found an F.B.I. memorandum from Washington to the Newark field office authorizing agents to "do anything possible" to apprehend Judith Flatley, who was being sought as a fugitive on a charge growing out of antiwar activities by the Weathermen organization.

At least two "surreptitious entries" were made at the home of Miss Flatley's parents, Benjamin and Rosa Cohen, in Union, N.J., near Newark, in January and February 1973, the sources said.

This is the first instance in which such blanket written authority has been found in a 16-month investigation of burglary and wiretapping by F.B.I. agents, the sources said. The document also established, the sources said, that bureau officials in Washington were willing to give agents carte blanche to apprehend the Weathermen fugitives.

The disclosure of the memorandum comes at a time when there is growing speculation that Attorney General Griffin B. Bell is nearing a decision on whether to seek further indictments or to abandon the investigation and impose some sort of administrative sanctions on agents involved who are still in the bureau.

Numerous Justice Department sources have indicated in recent days that a major decision will be made in the next week or two, and that, as Mr. Bell has indicated, serious thought is being given to possible disciplinary actions short of indictment.

John Kearney, a former supervisor in the bureau's New York field office, was indicted earlier this year on charges growing out of the investigation. The prosecutors in the case reported to Mr. Bell at that time that they had evidence of wrongdoing by a half dozen senior F.B.I. officials as well as several middle-level supervisors.

In addition, The New York Times reported yesterday that similar break-ins had been committed within the last five years by agents assigned to organized crime units in New York. The purpose of those break-ins and wiretaps, law enforcement sources said, was to obtain illegally information that later could be used as the basis for applications for court-ordered wiretaps.

What the agents were doing, the sources said, was obtaining information from break-ins or illegal bugs, pretending that it had been legally obtained from live informants, then using it in their requests for legal wiretaps.

At the time of the alleged burglaries at the Cohen home, J. William LaPrade was in charge of the Newark office. He is now an assistant director of the bureau and heads the New York field office. The prosecutors are reported to be seeking to discover whether he received the memorandum personally and construed it as authority to order a break-in.

Thomas Bolan, Mr. LaPrade's lawyer, declined to comment on the matter, but sources familiar with the case have said that Mr. LaPrade has never been asked about the Newark incident.

A spokesman for the F.B.I. had no comment on the case.

According to the law enforcement sources, Miss Flatley's search was part of an intense campaign in late 1972 and early 1973 to capture members of the Weather Underground who were wanted on a range of Federal warrants. L. Patrick Gray was director of the bureau and has repeatedly denied, through his lawyer, ordering any illegal entries.

Nevertheless, the sources said, a "greenie"—a green-tipped memorandum denoting a "special" investigation—went to the Newark field office ordering an increase in its efforts to apprehend Miss Flatley.

Two agents, James Weaver, now attached to the San Diego field office, and Kenneth Stuller, now believed to be on duty in New York, were questioned about the entry into the Cohen home.

Their lawyer, Jack Solerwitz of Minneapolis, L.L., declined to comment on the details of the case but said that the two agents had done nothing wrong.

In the search for fugitives of the Weather organizations, F.B.I. agents made illegal entries in an effort to find leads to the whereabouts of the fugitives. Many of the victims of the entries were families or friends of fugitives.

In early 1975, the civil rights division of the Department of Justice began a national investigation of the practice but concentrated mainly on members of Squad 47, a unit in the New York field office assigned to internal security and Weather organization cases.

One constant difficulty, sources familiar with the investigation have said, was establishing that the line agents carried out these illegal acts at the specific instruction of their superiors and that there was authorization from F.B.I. headquarters.

Dear Sir:

It is difficult to describe the distress and frustration I feel as I have suddenly been made out to be a criminal by the Department of Justice. Over six years ago I took an oath to uphold the laws of the United States as a member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and that same Justice Department which now seeks to impugn my character and reputation. The day of the administration of that oath as a Special Agent of the FBI, June 21, 1971, was for me a proud and happy day. It meant a chance to serve my country and to make my small contribution to society.

Although I enjoy my work as an Agent now more than ever, a sadness and bitterness is now part of me that did not exist before. I have been used -- made a pawn -- by men, specifically Department of Justice Attorneys, playing a game for their self-aggrandizement.

On August 24 of this year I testified before a Federal Grand Jury in Washington, D.C. regarding activities in which I participated as a Special Agent. My cooperation with Department of Justice Attorneys was freely given for the following reasons: (1) Directions from the FBI Director, Clarence Kelley, that agents cooperate fully with Departmental Investigators; (2) Agreement of immunity from prosecution proffered by Justice Department Attorneys, refusal of which risks contempt of Grand Jury charges; and (3) Belief on my part that perhaps the FBI had been guilty of "excesses" in the past and that, painful as it might be, investigation into these "excesses" might, over time, be for the better.

ENCLO.

Griffin Bell
October 21, 1977
Page Two

I am not now, nor was I on June 21, 1971, naive enough to believe that the FBI, or any government agency, should not be held accountable for its actions or those of its agents. My August 24 testimony before the Grand Jury is ample evidence that I believe this to be true. I do not believe, however, I should be ashamed of any activities in which I have engaged as an Agent. Never have I participated in anything as an FBI Agent with malicious or criminal intent, and never did I participate in anything as an Agent that I did not feel at the time was approved and justified.

It is impossible to describe the range of emotions I encountered during the two days in August I spent talking with Departmental Attorneys and testifying before the Grand Jury. Suddenly, I who had decided to dedicate his life to defending justice was called to answer to justice. It was a depressing experience, one which left me feeling totally vulnerable. But in the back of my mind was the ever present rationalization that, perhaps, it was for the best.

Then, however, in the October 7, 1977 issue of The New York Times, an article headlined, "Burglaries in Jersey Linked to FBI Memo", appeared under the by-line of Nicholas M. Harrocks. The text of the article contained not only the names of myself and other agents in connection with an alleged illegal entry, but also information which could only have been obtained from Department of Justice Attorneys and from secret Grand Jury testimony.

I was, to say the least, outraged and my vulnerability was complete. As a result of that article, I am suddenly exposed as having committed criminal acts, I am open to possible civil suits and my reputation, as well as that of other agents and the Bureau itself is questioned in a public forum. All of this occurs without the benefit of proper legal disposition of the matters in question and, more importantly, the obvious sources of information as contained in the article are Department of Justice attorneys.

For some time now, FBI activities have been under investigation. It seems daily, articles such as that described above appear in the press. The majority seem to impugn the reputation and character of the Bureau and its employees. When I compare the damage done by so-called "FBI excesses" with those of Department of Justice investigators who seem determined to destroy the Bureau or, at best, limit its effectiveness as a law enforcement agency, the "FBI excesses" pale in the comparison.

The tools to correct or improve FBI investigative techniques lie with the President, through the Attorney General and with the Congress, through its oversight committees -- as do culpability for past "excesses". Exposing these "excesses" through the media by using the guise of a confidential investigation and then slipping the results through the keyhole serve no one. I strongly urge and implore you, Sir, to launch an immediate investigation into the leakage of information by "Justice Department sources" as contained in the above cited New York Times article, as well as previous such articles.

As a starting point for this investigation, I give you the names of Mr. Francis Martin and Mr. Richard Johnston, the attorneys who questioned me before the Grand Jury on August 24. I urge this investigation with respect for you, Sir, the institutions of our Government and the cherished rights and liberties of all citizens in the United States.

Sincerely,

PURPOSE: To submit attached list of FBI documents (all xerox copies except one) furnished to Departmental Attorney Stephen A. Horn, Civil Rights Division, 4/28/77-5/4/77, and to record that Mr. Horn reviewed original Bureau abstracts in the Service Unit and Bufile [REDACTED] as well as portions of Bufile 66-8160 with Bureau approval.

DETAILS: In view of my retirement on 12/30/77, the following information is being furnished to you concerning this matter. With your approval, on 4/25/77, I was assigned to allow Departmental Attorney Stephen A. Horn, Civil Rights Division, free access to review the original Bureau abstracts maintained in the Service Unit of the Records Branch and to service any requests for access to additional records after clearing such requests with you, or with Mr. Paul L. Mack when you were not available.

Mr. Horn reviewed Service Unit abstracts daily on 4/25/77-4/29/77 and on 5/2/77, personally selecting the abstracts he desired to review after the filing system had been explained. The original abstracts for serials 4, 6x6, 13, 30 and 113 of Bufile [REDACTED] (REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITIES - VIOLENCE) were charged out to the Special File Room for maintenance there and Mr. Horn requested to review these abstracts, which were shown to him after approval was granted on 4/27/77. He then requested to review Bufile [REDACTED]. After this request was approved, with review required of Domestic Security and Terrorism Section of Criminal Investigative Division to excise names of Special Agents in deep undercover assignments, all five sections of Bufile [REDACTED] were made available on 4/28/77, for Mr. Horn's review. He also requested approval to review all 1972 and 1973 mail (regular and "June" mail) in Bufile 66-8160 (TECHNICAL SURVEILLANCE - GENERAL). Attached is a list of the original serials that were copied and excised for Mr. Horn to review from these two files in lieu of the original serials. Also

Re: Surreptitious Entry Investigation

Obviously Kearney will require clearances if he is to discuss with his attorneys areas which have already been touched upon in connection with the initial discovery motions in the Kearney indictment.

Also, it would seem advisable, if not already done, that Kearney be released from his employment agreement which carries beyond his date of retirement.

It has been determined that on 2/1/78 Deputy Assistant Attorney General Mary C. Lawton, Office of Legal Counsel, instructed the Department Security Office to obtain clearance for former Special Agent John J. Kearney. The Department Security Office was advised it should have no direct contact with Kearney, but should handle any necessary procedures through the office of [redacted] attorney for Kearney.

It is noted the Director, by memorandum dated 6/9/77, advised the Attorney General he might desire to afford former Special Agent Kearney and his counsel [redacted] clearances for access to classified information and to secure their agreement to abide by the Department's regulations concerning access to, security of and disclosure of classified information. The Document Classification/Security Officer shortly thereafter advised the Department Review Committee, the highest organizational body on classification matters, of the need for the Department to ensure clearances were obtained for Kearney and [redacted]. Prior to this time in a "Motion for Discovery and Inspection," attorney [redacted] had requested information relating to Communications Intelligence matters.

During conference at Dept on 2/2/78 Mary Lawton mentioned needed clearance for Kearney's signature and he agreed that such clearances should be aff'd for Kearney. HCB

SURREPTITIOUS ENTRY INVESTIGATION

PURPOSE: To secure authority for SA [REDACTED] to discuss official matters before the Federal grand jury convened at Washington, D. C., to hear evidence relating to captioned investigation, and, in the event proper clearance procedures are effected, to discuss before the grand jury classified national security information and material, if necessary.

DETAILS: On 3/13/78, SA [REDACTED] Administrative Services Division, advised me he had received information from the Criminal Division of the Department that I was scheduled to appear before a Federal grand jury hearing evidence relating to the Surreptitious Entry Investigation on 3/15/78. After asking SA [REDACTED] as to whether I was a target of the investigation and as to whether my appearance was voluntary or to be under subpoena, he made further inquiries and advised me I was not a target and that I would be subpoenaed to appear on 3/16/78. REC-46 117-116-127

This is to request authority of the Director that I be released from my employment agreement to discuss official information as necessary before the Federal grand jury. Also, in the event I determine necessary clearances have been obtained by the Department for members of the Federal grand jury, court reporter and court stenographer, that I be authorized to discuss as required classified national security information and material.

As a matter of information, by memorandum dated 10/6/77, the former Director called to the attention of the Attorney General several instances wherein classified information and material had been discussed before the Federal grand jury in this investigation without proper clearances for the grand jury, court reporter and stenographer. The former

Director requested at that time the Attorney General make appropriate inquiries to ensure classified national security information and material was being appropriately safeguarded in accordance with Federal regulations and that the Director be advised of the results of these inquiries so he in turn could alert appropriate personnel. To my knowledge the Director's memorandum of 10/6/77 was never acknowledged.

On this date, I checked with the Department Security Office and determined that neither the court reporter, court stenographer nor members of the Federal grand jury convened at Washington, D. C., had been afforded clearances for national security information and material. A representative of the Department Security Office advised in his opinion such clearance was definitely necessary before such individuals could receive classified national security information or material.

I have retained personal attorneys in connection with this appearance and am requesting the Department authorize one who has already received clearance to discuss classified matters relating to this appearance and afford clearance to the second attorney who does not possess clearance for national security information and material.

RECOMMENDATION: That SA [redacted] as required, be released from his employment agreement to discuss classified national security information and material before the Federal grand jury convened at Washington, D. C., in captioned matter, if required, and providing proper clearances have been obtained by the Department for all individuals who will receive this material.

In view of the concerns expressed by SA [redacted] relative to the possibility of discussing classified information before the Federal Grand Jury, there is attached a copy of a letter dated March 23, 1978, to Assistant Attorney General Benjamin R. Civiletti, from Attorney General Bell, which was received today, 3/27/78, from Mr. Frank Martin, Trial Attorney, in which the Attorney General authorized the dissemination of classified information or material to persons outside the Executive Branch in connection with this investigation by this Federal Grand Jury.

ALL
(4)(3)
(3)(6)
(5)(C)

The 3/23/78 Attorney General letter to Assistant Attorney General Civiletti is a perfunctory post facto clearance of a Federal grand jury which has been in session for months. It does not respond to former Director Kelley's 10/77 letter citing instances where national security information was compromised before this grand jury and requesting corrective action. While the Attorney General's letter meets the requirement of 28 CFR 17.64, that classified information shall not be disseminated outside the Executive Branch except as authorized by the Attorney General, apparently no effort has been made to assure its protection, and the authorization does not meet the requirement of 28 CFR 17.57, that access shall not be given to any person unless a determination of trustworthiness has been made.

Late 3/30/78, the Department Security Office stated it was endeavoring, at the request of the Criminal Division, to expeditiously afford my attorney [redacted] clearance so he could represent me in connection with my rescheduled appearance before the grand jury at 1:30 p.m., 3/31/78.

While it appears some in the Department are continuing to ignore or bend for their own purposes regulations relating to the safeguarding of national security material, in view of the letter of the Attorney General and the current efforts of the Department to afford my attorney clearance, the FBI could be accused of resorting to technicalities if I am not released from my employment agreement to furnish both official and classified information to the grand jury. The continued violations and circumvention by the Department of regulations relating to protection of national security information in this investigation unfortunately destroy the integrity of the Executive Branch's system of protecting such information and material, the integrity of such material obtained by us from intelligence sources and methods, and will deter our acquisition of vital national security material in the future.

I have not indicated an unwillingness to cooperate with this Federal grand jury. In my position, it is my responsibility to ensure regulations relating to the protection of national security information and material are enforced and this has been my intention. In view of the above, I request the Director release me from my employment agreement so I may provide official information and classified information to this Federal grand jury, its stenographer and court reporter, and any appropriate Department personnel who I am assured have proper clearance. While I believe to present my testimony in the proper perspective I need to relate information of a compartmented nature requiring special clearance and information which the President has requested be held closely, in view of the insecurity of the Federal grand jury I should not be permitted to discuss this latter information.

RECOMMENDATION: That SA [redacted] be released by the Director from his employment agreement to furnish official and classified information up to and including "Top Secret" on 3/31/78 to the Federal grand jury at Washington, D. C., in accordance with the above, and that he also be released to confer with his attorney, providing the Department does secure proper clearance before my testimony, under the same conditions.

On 4-18-78 Mr. Paul Boucher, Chief of the Departmental Task Force investigating surreptitious entry, called me and advised that they are presently referring matters to the FBI for any administrative action that the Bureau desires to take. Mr. Boucher advised that this is being handled by the Office of Professional Responsibility of the Planning and Inspection Division of the FBI. He advised that in view of this that certain individuals will need access to records that the Bureau has and/as furnished to the Department.

Mr. Boucher advised that in view of the nature of the action he is giving access to the following individuals to the files contained in Room 1427-D, which would be the surreptitious entry files:

Assistant Director Lee Colwell
Deputy Assistant Director Thomas J. Biamonte

11/15 SAC Memorandum 30-76, dated 7/1/76, sets forth the Bureau policy and regulations requiring that all field office investigative activity must be made a matter of record and integrated into the field office files. The following is set forth as a reminder and in amplification of the instructions in SAC Memorandum 30-76.

Demands are continually being made upon the Bureau to produce FBI documents through Freedom of Information/Privacy Act requests and discovery orders in civil litigation and subpoena matters. Issues are sometimes raised regarding the production of documents originally designated as "Do Not File" documents and/or documents relating to surreptitious entries. In these instances, it has been necessary to hand search files or folders which contain such documents in unrecorded and unindexed form. Explanations have been required from the FBI as to why such documents continue to be maintained in this status. Failure to comply with these court orders could result in contempt of court citations being taken against FBI officials. In such situations, the court may also elect to impose sanctions against the FBI when the Bureau is a party in civil litigation matters.

In order that the Bureau may meet such discovery demands and at the same time protect privileged or highly sensitive material contained in official documents, it is incumbent that the credibility of the Bureau not be diminished. Compliance with existing regulations regarding the recording and indexing of documents is necessary, and each office should insure all documents are recorded and indexed.

For purposes of uniformity and standardization of instructions to SAC Memorandum 30-76, it is required that, any file, folder, or collection of documents, regardless of its nature, but not limited to, any case, should be assigned to a SAC's safe or Confidential File when it is assigned an appropriate file number(s). The individual documents should be serialized, and the subject matter of each should be appropriately indexed affording availability of documents as defined under the FBI Central Records System published in the Federal Register.

The instructions set forth above, as well as those in SAC Memorandum 30-76, are to be applied to all documents investigative in nature and those administrative in nature except where the Manual of Administrative Operations and Procedures (MAOP) provides for exemption from indexing and serializing administrative documents.

This matter should be handled expeditiously and FBIHQ advised by close of business 3/9/80 of compliance with above instructions. Your reply should be designated "Attention: Records System Section, Records Management Division."

NOTE: In the past, surveys and administrative inquiry investigations have been conducted concerning the location and identification of documents, including those considered to be "Do Not File" type of documents. Searches conducted in connection with civil discovery requests have revealed such documents have been transferred or indexed by reference in the Central Records System. In such instances, the individual subject matter of such documents has not been indexed and is central to the discovery process. Some matter requests such as Attorney General of the U.S. v. U.S. District Court, et al. and Alma McHenry, et al. v. Edgar, et al. have been filed in the FBI files and on the document recording system. SAC Memorandum 30-76 sets forth general instructions regarding recording and indexing of such material. However, the demands upon the Bureau for civil discovery and subpoena matters, the indexing of such documents should be uniform.

RE: SURREPTITIOUS ENTRY

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~

DETAILS:

Attached as an enclosure to the original of this memorandum is a folder captioned "SAC Folder Instructions," which was recovered at an undisclosed date from the New York Office. This material was not previously placed on record, inasmuch as there is no information contained therein identifying the target of any surreptitious entry. The information contained in the attached folder consists of various memoranda, routing slips and notes apparently related to the administrative handling of material secured through surreptitious entry. It is noted that a classification review of the material contained in the attached folder was conducted on 1/21/80. Also, as noted previously, no subject or target of surreptitious entry was identified in material contained in the attached folder. The following topics are mentioned and should be indexed to this memorandum:

Memorandum R. W. Scherrer to Mr. Finzel
RE: SURREPTITIOUS ENTRY

DETAILS:

H. N. Bassett memorandum to Mr. Callahan dated 5/11/76 reported the details of the acquisition of 27 volumes of personal folders maintained by the Assistant Director in Charge of the New York Office. These folders were acquired by former Assistant Director [REDACTED] and Inspectors [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] during the period 5/4/76 through 5/7/76. The above-described folders were taken to FBIHQ where they have been maintained since May, 1976. It is anticipated that these folders will not be returned to the New York Office, but will be retained at FBIHQ. The material contained in these folders identifies the targets of surreptitious entries carried out by the New York Office and are retrievable through the New York Office general index. (b)(1) (7)

In order to facilitate FBIHQ retrieval of material contained in the 27 folders, the various memoranda contained therein will be indexed into the FBIHQ general index.

The 27 folders described above will be made bulky enclosures to instant memorandum and will be retained in the Special File Room with access restricted to the Bureau Officials identified in recommendation number two above.

CONFIDENTIAL SOURCE ASSIGNMENTS

Reference is made to my informal note of 11/23/55 setting forth contents of the conversation which I had with Inspector B. C. BROWN.

After discussion with ASAC DONALD MOORE on this date, I telephonically contacted Inspector BROWN and made the following recommendations which he approved and stated should be placed into effect.

The communications referring to anonymous source assignments should be completely deleted from the June file. In addition, our indices should be purged of all references to the communications covering anonymous source assignments which were previously placed in the June file. The memoranda and other communications so extracted from the June file will be placed in a personal folder of the SAC to be maintained in the actual personal custody of the SAC in the SAC's personal office. The only official record which will be maintained will be a card index maintained by the SAC's Secretary which will set forth the number of the asterisk informant and the date of development of the informant.

It was agreed that the data placed in the SAC's personal folder would not be destroyed but would be retained.

These instructions are being stapled to the inside of said folder.

The communications extracted from the June file should be filed in chronological order.

In view of the decisions set forth above, it will be satisfactory to make a notation on any memoranda prepared covering confidential source assignments data concerning authority received from Headquarters.

(SEE ADDENDUM)

WILLIAM G. SIMON
ASAC

Further discussion has disclosed the necessity for maintaining a special index which contains the name, address, and the symbol number of a particular assignment. This index is referred to hundreds of times each month and is of absolute necessity to the workability of information secured under this program.

In addition it was noted that we must maintain a symbol informant card in the confidential informant index, it being noted that within the past several years instructions have been received that symbol numbers assigned to anonymous source assignments must be in sequence with symbol numbers assigned to tesurs, misurs, etc.

In addition it was noted that communications are forwarded to the Bureau each week advising the Bureau of the identity of symbol numbers assigned to anonymous source assignments and furnishing additional dates in connection with symbol numbers previously furnished to the Bureau.

In view of the above, I had another conversation with Inspector Brown. It was proposed that we maintain a special index under a personal label of James J. Kelly to be utilized in connection with the personal folder to be maintained by James J. Kelly containing this material. Mr. Brown agreed that this was the only proper step which could be taken, it being agreed that it was necessary to report on this information.

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED

I told him that the inconsistency which appeared was in connection with the maintenance of the symbol number card and the forwarding of communications to the Bureau explaining the designation of symbol numbers. I pointed out to him that within the past several years this system had been inaugurated by the NY office and that it has been very helpful in the report-writing phases of our work inasmuch as only the symbol number need be used rather than a long descriptive passage which attempts to explain the source of the information. Inspector Brown agreed that it would be necessary to maintain the symbol number card as in the past containing both the symbol number and the name of the subject and that also it would be necessary to continue forwarding to the Bureau as in the past under a JUNE and Personal & Confidential cover the designation of symbol numbers.

I pointed out to him that with respect to the administrative handling of these matters in the past year and a half there was no problem and that the main problems arose because of the variance in our procedures over the years in connection with anonymous source assignments conducted 10 and 15 years ago.

I also pointed out to him that there was a tremendous amount of information resulting from anonymous source assignments which had been channelized throughout the files of this office over the years.

W. G. SIMON, ASAC

See me
Inspector B. C. Brown advised me on 11/23/55 that with respect to any record of authorization of highly confidential sources, there should be no record in any file concerning authority secured for handling such an assignment.

The SAC should maintain an informal folder in his personal file or desk and in that folder there should be repositied an informal note concerning each particular assignment. These notes should be held until the next inspection. Substantiated 11/23/55

With respect to those files which contain such memoranda at the present time, they should be purged and the memoranda should be destroyed, on any of the assignments which have been completed.

Thesnotes on each job should be retained in the future and will be deleted from the folder on the occasion of each inspection.

These instructions are being stapled to the inside of the folder, which will be placed in the lower lefthand drawer of the SAC's personal desk.

Memorandum

TO : SAC

FROM : [REDACTED]

SUBJECT:

ADMINISTRATIVE HANDLING OF "JUNE"
MATERIAL INVOLVING HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL
AND ANONYMOUS SOURCES (HCAS)

The current procedure in the handling of memoranda involving highly confidential and anonymous sources is as follows:

- A - A June memorandum is prepared by the agent, setting out the results of his investigation to determine the security aspects of the contemplated assignment. Based on this memo, the Bureau is telephonically contacted and authority obtained. A notation by the ASAC is made on this memo setting out who authorized the assignment and the date. This memo is then filed in the SAC's folder permanently. Once the assignment has been completed, if positive results are received a June memo is prepared setting out the results. This memo is also filed in the SAC's folder. All of these memos are filed according to date order.

Authority for Above Procedure

On 11/23/55, ASAC William G. Simon spoke to Inspector B. C. Brown at which time Inspector Brown instructed that the SAC should maintain an informal folder in his personal file or desk and in that folder there should be reprinted an informal note concerning each particular assignment. These notes should be held until the next inspection.

Memo

ASAC William G. Simon again spoke to Inspector D. G. Brown on 12/28/54 in which the above instructions were reiterated and according to Mr. Simon's statement, "It was agreed that the data placed in the SAC's personal folder would not be destroyed but would be retained."

RECOMMENDATION

When authority is desired to conduct an NCAS, a memorandum be prepared setting out the results of the investigation conducted in connection with the ascertaining of the security aspects involved. This memorandum should not in any way refer to the question of Bureau authority. This memorandum should be the basis for the ASAC calling the Bureau. When authority is obtained, the ASAC should prepare a brief memorandum setting out this authority. Both of the above memorandums should be filed in separate SAC folders in date order. At the time of the next inspection, the memorandums containing Bureau authority should be destroyed and the other memorandum retained. It is also felt that a memorandum setting out the results of the NCAS should be prepared and filed in the same SAC folder as the memorandum containing the results of the investigation and this also would be retained on a permanent basis.

- B - Certain of the assignments are approved on a continuing basis. This means that once a month, a memorandum is submitted to Asst. Director A. H. Belmont at the Bureau, setting out the results of certain NCAS that are of a continuing nature and these are approved on an NCAS basis, thus avoiding the necessity of seeking for Bureau authority on an individual basis. One copy is retained in the New York Office and a duplicate prepared for ASAC NCAS who retains it for approximately 2 years until there is no continuing basis; approval has been obtained on an NCAS basis, he then destroys

RECOMMENDATION

That there be no change in this procedure.

A review of existing SAC instructions has that it would be impossible to destroy these memoranda containing Bureau authority without destroying valuable information. It is therefore, recommended that the SACs be placed in effect above be placed in effect and that the SACs be retained up to this time be retained in their present condition.

SUBJECT: CONFIDENTIAL SOURCES

On 3/25/63 Assistant to the Director A. H. BELMONT called to advise of the Director's concern in regard to confidential sources, especially in view of pdf-shots being taken at the Bureau by LEVINE and others.

He stated that the Director, after reviewing the facts, has decided to continue with this valuable source of information, but all such sources are to receive close scrutiny. The SAC or ASAC is to approve each request and Bureau authority must be specifically obtained for the handling of each source. The Director wants to be sure that we are not going on a fishing expedition, but have a specific objective in mind when handling these sources.

He stated that the planning of each source should be gone over carefully and an informal memorandum concerning same should be placed in the safe in the SAC's office and kept there until the next inspection, at which time the memoranda will be reviewed by the Inspector and destroyed. Mr. BELMONT stated he wants to be sure that we are using men of dedication and stability on this important type of assignment.

This matter was discussed at the conference of the ASACS on 3/26/63. It was pointed out that while we are to be extremely cautious in this type of operation, this should not be interpreted to mean that there should be any lessening of our activity in this field. If we expect to continue making in-roads in the security field, we should use every ounce of imagination and initiative at our disposal. It was pointed out that sometimes it is easy, when a caution of this sort emanates from the Bureau, to use it as a valid excuse to slow down our operation and not accomplish the end result that we have been achieving in the past.
